

Health Check

We offer a one-day business and technology assessment, which will help you achieve impressive results through better use of IT.

The importance of technology in the workplace cannot be understated.

There is not only money to be saved from using technology that works in harmony with your business, but it is also essential to control spiralling costs of IT.

The Health Check involves one of our experts visiting your business and carrying out an assessment of current working practices and use of technology.

Our expert will examine how IT is used in each business process, how it might be improved upon and how enhancing existing technology resources could make such improvements possible.

A written report will then be created containing full recommendations and a detailed action plan for implementation.

- Technology alignment to your business needs

- Latest technology enhancements that could benefit your business

- The security of IT, virus protection and spam filtering

- Disaster recovery

- Training

- IT Audit
etc

Our clients find this a superb opportunity to boost the efficiency, productivity and profitability of your business.
